All-Star Campus Talent Listed For Loyola Night

With another all-star lineup of campus talent scheduled to perform, Loyola Night 1948 will make a one-night appearance at the Evergreen Gymnasium on November 5. Invitations to the show and dance to follow are priced at $1.50, stag or drag.

Robert S. Custer, President of the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society and General Chairman of this year's show, reveals that a tentative number of acts have been planned and rehearsals have begun.

The lineup, according to Custer, will include skits, song and dance acts, piano and accordion solos, magic and several songs by the Loyola College Glee Club.

Acts Listed

The famed Carmody-Schaub-Stephens triumvirate will do their arrangement of the "Apache Dance;" Bill Mullikin, star of last year's Loyola Night and an outstanding member of the Dramatic Society, will do his song and dance routine; and George Herman and Co. have arranged their version of "High Button Shoes" and "Test Tube Theatre."

Also listed are a parody on Macbeth by Frank Gallagher and Co., bits of wizardry and legerdemain styled by Cyril Keller, and an accordion solo.

Modernists Will Play

Lawrence Davis, Chairman of the Orchestra Committee, reports that the Modernists will supply the music for the dance. James Bowen has been named Chairman of Business and James Burke and Gerry Kimmitt are Advertising Co-Chairmen.

Possibilities for the Master of Ceremonies job are Dick Coleman and David Nottingham.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Felice Iula, will harmonize the melodies of both classical and modern pieces.

Portraits For Yearbook Will Be Taken Next Week

Individual senior portraits for the 1949 Evergreen will be taken by Merin Studios of Philadelphia, official photographers, from Monday through Thursday of next week, October 25-28.

The largest graduating class in Loyola's history, 317 students, will be photographed in gowns for the annual. On Thursday, in addition to the senior classes of February, May and July, photos of members of the Jesuit and lay faculty will be taken.

List Posted

Donald E. Fay, Editor-in-Chief of the Evergreen, expressed the hope that every member of the senior classes would cooperate in the schedule for photographs.

"A list of the classes has been posted on the Dean's bulletin board for two weeks, informing each senior when he is to report to be photographed. The Dean has allowed those seniors whose times conflict with regular periods to be excused from their respective periods in order that the schedule might be carried out."

Pictures will be taken in the small room directly behind the Athletic Association office on the first floor of the Gymnasium building. Times range from nine o'clock in the morning until after four in the afternoon.

Fee Of One Dollar

Fay stated that there will be a sitting fee of one dollar charged by the photographer, and that this is to be paid when each senior reports at the time indicated on the schedule.

Calvert Kenning, Business Manager, revealed that the advertising drive, begun on Tuesday, needs momentum, and reminds the student body of the fifteen per cent commission offered.

Work of the writeup and activity list of each senior began this week, under the supervision of Francis X. Gallagher and his committee of Robert Custer, Richard Milholland and Lawrence Mooney. Each member of the class will write up three other members, and in turn will be written up by three members. Deadline is November 5.

Dr. Hoyt, Comes Will Attend History Meetings At Raleigh

Dr. William D. Hoyt, Jr., Professor of History at Loyola, will represent Evergreen at the Joint Annual Meeting of the Society of American Archivists and the American Association for State and Local History at Raleigh, North Carolina, October 27, 28 and 29.

Accompanying Dr. Hoyt will be John Comes, July '49, a History major at Loyola. Both will leave Baltimore about the 26th and return approximately November 1.

Trips Planned

Topics to be discussed at the convention include the "History and Program of State Archival Agencies," "Reference Problems in History as Viewed by the Administrator" and "Historical Manuscripts at Duke University."

Included in the convention agenda are trips to nearby Duke University and the University of North Carolina, and a tea at the Governor's mansion in Raleigh.

Dr. Hoyt On Committee

Dr. Hoyt is currently serving on the program committee of the convention.

At the convention will be representatives from the Universities of North Carolina, Virginia, Duke and several other Historical Societies.

Alumni Elect New President

Louis C. Roche

Louis C. Roche '18 became President of the Alumni Association of Loyola College at elections held on October 15 in the Recreation Room of the Gymnasium.

Lingard I. Whiteford '28 was elected First Vice-President, and Francis J. Mueller '43 Second Vice-President. Directors elected were R. Emmet Bradley '22, Eugene E. Bracken '41, and Joseph L. Gessler, Jr., '45.

Approximately 150 members of the Association were present.

Education Aid Is Debate Topic

James A. Perrott

Exhibition debates among the members of the group and trial speeches for newcomers are the two projects being held by the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society, Mr. James A. Perrott, Moderator, announced last week.

"Although intercollegiate competition in debating does not begin until February, we are proceeding on a full scale now in order to be fully prepared. Through the weekly meetings and open forums we are conducting, we hope to discover some exceptional talent among the new members of the society."

The national collegiate debate topic for 1948-49, the subject of most of the inter-school arguments, is "Resolved: That a Bill Providing Federal Aid to Education Should be Passed by Congress."

Evelius President

John Evelius, re-elected President last spring, has issued a call for any student still wishing to join the organization, which meets on Monday afternoon at 3:15.

Mr. Perrott, who assumed the moderatorship this year, has announced that he prefers to forego the large number of debates held last year, (Loyola participated in approximately fifty), and schedule fewer and bigger debates.

Indiana Tournament

Trips to New York and Philadelphia are booked, and Mr. Perrott and the society have been invited to participate in a national debate tournament to be held in Indiana next April.

In a debate on the national question held last Monday, John Sandvick, Eugene Welsh and Thomas Junnes upheld the affirmative against the negative trio of Gerald Kessler, Joseph Reiter and Harry Shock.

'Harvest Time' Dance Set For October 30

"Harvest Time" is scheduled at the Evergreen Gymnasium on October 30 as an informal dance sponsored by the class of May 1949.

Raymond E. Parr, President of the class, and his committee consisting of Richard Tommey, Eugene Brost and Thomas Petr have announced that Gil Burns and his six-piece orchestra will do the music making between 9 and 1.

Parr stated that 200 tickets are available at the invitation fee of $1.10 per couple, and that the Snack Bar will be open.

Devereux, Marine Brigadier General And Jap Prisoner For Four Years, Attends Night School

by Daniel E. Shehan, Jr.

The man who became known as the 'Defender of Wake Island' and who spent four years in a Japanese prison camp is presently pursuing studies in the Evening School.

James P. S. Devereux, officially Brigadier General in the United States Marine Corps, Retired, is content now to spend his time with his family on his farm in Stevenson, Md., and make trips to Evergreen to attend classes in Political Science.

In Marines 24 Years

The man who spent over twenty years in the Marines and achieved such distinction presented a very unusual picture. Standing five feet seven inches and of slender stature, the modest hero was reticent to speak about his own war experiences.

Although a descendant of an old and distinguished Maryland family, the General was born in Cabana, Cuba. Coming to the United States at an early age and educated in American schools, he entered the Marine Corps in 1923. Gen. Devereux "always liked and respected the United States Marines," and, he added, "I guess I always will."

Especially famous for his command on Wake Island, Gen. Devereux explained, in his typically modest manner, that it was not he who defended Wake but his contingent of brave Marines.

Four Years In Prison

A prison camp outside Shanghai, China, served as his abode between 1941 and 1945, during part of that time he was reported missing. In July of 1945 he was taken to Japan, and was impressed by the effects of American military bombing might.

Gen. Devereux decided to come to Loyola because he feels that everyone who has the time should interest himself in government.

Report Shows Boys Wed
Girls Who Drink Less

by Frank Gallagher

Liquor And Women

Does your sweetheart imbibe freely? Liquor—I mean. If she does, I have something tragic to tell you. Statistics indicate you won't marry her. According to a recent survey conducted in a co-ed college, the girls who were the most frequent drinkers had the most dates. They were rated first class date material but they were the low women on the marriage pole.

The report states that boys don't seem to marry the girls whom they date the most when the girls are heavy drinkers. Perhaps the fellows believe the drinking girl has been around too much to want to settle down. Or maybe most men want to marry the Sweet Elaine (See Lancelot and Elaine) type. You know—the shy, blushing, non-liquor drinking maiden who roams through the still of the forest sighing gentle sighs for her Sir Lochinvar (See Marmion). It comes down to this: does a girl place more faith in a drink than in a husband? Dandy stuff, that Calvert (See Liquor ads—everywhere).

A Call To The Brave

We need a St. George to slay the local dragon. He isn't as big as a dragon but he has an odor which would surpass anything. He's a skunk. He roams rather freely over the college grounds at night. His unexpected presence has been throwing the students into panic.

The man who will dispose of this pesty fellow will be given without additional cost a free ticket to the Municipal Bath House and membership in the Royal Order Of Dragon Slayers.

Poet's Corner

The following lines, unpublished until now, were found on the back of a hoe in the tomb of Cheops of ancient fame. Archivists are of the opinion that they were written by a bard who had completely mastered the difficulties of rhyme and accent. It is with no small amount of pride that THE GREYHOUND publishes these lines.

Some Job

Now, we've heard everything. Al Bittner, a student of the College, was actually paid good American money to sit with a baby-sitter. It seems that the young lady was afraid to stay at home with only the baby to protect her.

So the man and woman who were employing her for the evening decided that they would also employ Al to protect her—or at least to afford her a sense of protection.

Let 'er go, Gallagher.

Civic Life:

Loyola College Voters Urged
To Back Redevelopment Loan

Loyola College students voting on November 2 will be doing the community a service by voting for the Redevelopment Loan. The loan was voted down in the last election by those who live in the better neighborhoods. Those living in the slum areas voted almost 100% for the loan while, on the other hand, those living in better areas voted almost 100% against it.

The Redevelopment Commission has been active for the past year in informing the general public of the benefits such a loan would bring to those who live outside of the slum areas as well as those residing within them.

Surrounds Downtown Area

It has been pointed out that the slum areas comprise an almost complete area circling the downtown section of Baltimore. Juvenile delinquency, tuberculosis and other diseases are concentrated in these slum districts.

Even though the majority of citizens do not have to live in the slum areas, the citizens must come into contact with those who do, and consequently they too must be exposed to the dangers which filthy conditions breed.

Studies Completed

Members of the Redevelopment Commission have made an extensive study of the slum districts and they have drawn up a plan whereby the areas can be rebuilt and be made to pay their own way. Their plan encourages private enterprise to join in the work and at the same time to make the normal amount of profit for construction activities.

Mayor D'Alesandro has given active support to the Commission and has aided in the distribution of literature to aid the campaign. Commission members have prepared slides and have been speaking before various civic organizations whenever possible.

John A. Lutz

Joshua Logan made Broadway and half of New York stand agape at the story of a Lieutenant in the Supply Corps called "Mister Roberts;" but in the same sense Loyola could re-tell the prize-winning story and apply it to freshman John A. Lutz, whose adventures are remarkably similar to those of the stage character.

Lutz served as a Lieutenant in the Supply Corps and reverted back to Chief Storekeeper just before finishing the hitch, much the same as Mister Roberts was threatened for garnering the bad will of the Captain. But John differs from Mr. Roberts on one great point—he served in the Navy twenty years!

Entered At 17

He entered the service in September, 1927, at the age of 17, and he was honorably discharged on December 17, 1947. He has traveled all the seven seas and served on all continents—visited approximately 15 countries. This, too, parallels the illustrious Mister Roberts.

Married and with three children, John now tallies 38 years. He is a B. S. II student and resides at Bel Air, Maryland.

Served In China

Prior to the Japanese-Chinese war, John served in China and enjoyed the luxury of two servants. Total cost? Three dollars a month apiece. He was serving on the USS Ashville at this time on China Patrol. "We could sense that war was in the air," John said. "When the Panay was bombed we took survivors aboard our ship."

Another difference between Mr. Roberts and John Lutz is the very obvious fact that Mister Roberts will probably go on for years on Broadway—while John will just go four years—at Loyola.

Jerry Trotta Orchestra
Shows Big Time Promise

by Larry Davis

A fairly recent development in the music world of Baltimore is the new Jerry Trotta band. Formed in the latter months of this past summer, it shows real promise of making the big time. The band is the outgrowth of the old Jerry Trotta band which played a successful engagement early in the summer at Ocean City and contains remnants from the old band plus a lot of new talent.

With Jerry playing a lively drum and his brother doing tasty work on alto sax, the band features the interesting bop-tenor of "Reds" Feehley and the fine trombone of Tony Popli. Bob Fields and Jack Armstrong, two new additions to the band, have added greatly to the musical quality of the group.

Bob, with his modernistic piano, has given the band a progressive sound different from any other in the city and Jack, with his delicate phrasing, continues to establish himself as one of the finest trumpeters around town.

The real backbone of this nine-piece ork, however, is the library arranged by Ken Hanna, former Stan Kenton sideman and one of the country's leading arrangers. Ken's influence is also felt in his interpreting of arrangements. This writer personally feels that the band's success in becoming a national favorite depends entirely on the continued direction of Hanna.

The sound of the band is a cross between Claude Thornhill and Stan Kenton, combining the soft organ-like quality of Thornhill with the chord variation of Kenton but without the latter's frantic scream. Patrons of the Famous Ball Room, Madison Club, and Kavakos Club of Washington, D. C., have enthusiastically received the band and indications point to a future of good bookings.

Quarterly Listed
For November 15

David McManus, Managing Editor of The Evergreen Quarterly, announced that the first issue of the magazine would be distributed among the students around November 15.

Last Wednesday marked the final day on which contributions for the first issue were accepted. The Staff plans to meet this week to read over the contributions.

It was announced that Frank Gallagher would continue in his position as Copy Editor of the magazine and that Austin L. Byrd would serve as Business Manager again this year.

The new Staff is considering a change in the cover and the format of the magazine.

Meet The Faculty:

Dr. Wagner Was Intrigued By Chemistry At Early Age

by Thomas J. Garrity

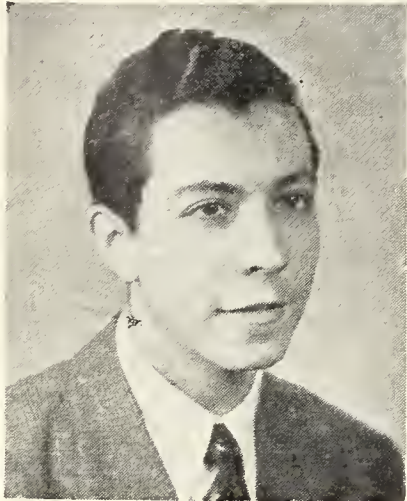

Chemistry may cause many a student to lose his sanity, but it certainly has its fascinating, if slightly difficult, moments.

And that's precisely why Dr. Herman B. Wagner is now teaching physical chemistry at Loyola for the third year.

Class Valedictorian

"Chemistry always appealed to me in grammar and high school," says Dr. Wagner, "and when I entered Hopkins in 1941, I decided to major in chemical engineering."

After he was graduated from Calvert Hall College, where he was valedictorian of the class of 1941, Dr. Wagner entered Hopkins on a scholarship the same year and was graduated with honors from the School of Chemical Engineering in 1944.

Did Army Research Work

He then entered the Graduate School at Hopkins, also acting as a junior instructor in chemistry in the undergraduate school until he received his Master's degree in 1945.

Continuing his studies at Hopkins, Dr. Wagner began work on an Army research project, which was being conducted at Homewood at that time. In 1945, after finishing his Army work, he came to Loyola.

Received Doctorate This Year

Early this year he received his Doctorate in physical chemistry at Hopkins and now devotes his time exclusively to teaching.

A resident of Rodgers Forge, Dr. Wagner is a member of Sigma Xi, a national honorary scientific fraternity; the American Chemical Society; the American Institute of Chemical Engineers; and the Johns Hopkins Graduate Chemistry Club.

Recently, Dr. Wagner submitted several articles to Analytical Chemistry, a scientific journal, which will be published early next spring.

Dr. Wagner's younger brother, Albert, is now a member of the Class of 1952 at Loyola.

Library To Get Special Books

The Loyola Library, in accordance with its plans for postwar enlargement, is rapidly adding new volumes to its reference section.

During the next three years the Library will get a complete set of the Library of Congress Catalog of Printed Cards, which fills 167 volumes. When this photographic copy of the Library of Congress cards for 1899-1942 is added to the 1942-47 set now in the Evergreen archives, it will enable students to obtain bibliographic data on books in the national library.

The reference section will also receive Abbé Migne's Patrologiae Cursus Completus, in both the Series Graeca (148 vols.) and the Series Latina (205 vols.). This monumental work will enable serious students to study the thoughts of the early Church Fathers in both Latin and Greek.

The Chemistry Library has received the seventh and eighth supplements of Beilstein's Handbuch der Organische Chemie.

The engagement of Joseph L. Cannizzaro, July '49, to Miss Mary Annette Halligan on October 2 has been announced.

They will be married on December 19.

Coleman Forms Disc Company

Three Baltimoreans, one a Loyola student, organized a new record company, Evergreen Records, five weeks ago.

Dick Coleman, a WCBM disc-jockey and a student at Loyola College, initially conceived the idea for the company. His two partners are Bob Lloyd, a graduate of the Johns Hopkins University and a teacher at Hamilton Junior High School, and Milt Roberts, also a Hopkins graduate, and an instructor at the University of Delaware.

Named After College Site

The youthful organization took its name after the site upon which Loyola College stands. Appropriately enough, the Loyola College Campus Shop will be the first to handle the sales.

The first recording has already been released, with Dick Coleman handling the vocals on both numbers. The ballad side of the disc is entitled "Autumn Means This To Me," and the other side of the record features a novelty number, "Snowman."

Larry Davis Guitarist

Another Loyola student, Larry Davis, handles the guitar duties for the Trio. Davis is a member of THE GREYHOUND Staff and writes the music and record columns in collaboration with Coleman.

Coleman, speaking for the new group, expressed the hope of his colleagues when he said that he expected the idea to "catch on" among the younger set.

Ensemble Formation Plans Announced

Mr. Iula, Director of the Music Department, announced plans to form a swing ensemble at Loyola. Most of the members will come from the main body of the orchestra. This ensemble will play several numbers for the Loyola Night show.

Any student interested in joining should see Mr. Iula in room 14D immediately.

Seniors Challenge Classes To Vie In Loyalty Contest

Students of the Senior Class have challenged the other classes of the College to vie with them in a display of school spirit. The seniors have embarked upon an extensive poster program in an effort to make the rest of the school aware of the fact "that the Seniors are the leaders."

This challenge came after Clintou Bamberger, President of the Student Council, had written a public letter to the members of the Freshman Class congratulating them on the very successful dance which they sponsored on October 16 in the Gym.

Cites Responsibility

Bamberger made a remark which was interpreted to mean that the Freshman Class had taken the lead in school interest and that it was the duty of the class to maintain that status.

Eugene Welsh, President of the July, '49 group, met with the members of his class committees, and as a result of their talk it was decided that the Senior Class would challenge the rest of the school to a contest designated to prove which class had the most school spirit.

No Definite Contest

As yet there has been no definite manner determined to ascertain

Amateur Radio Station Set Up; Campus Club To Be Organized

Loyola College went on the air for the first time on September 27, at 2:44 p. m. John Darrell, under his call sign W3NVG, made voice contact with KP4EE, Portable W3 on 10 meters.

In the radio lab, opposite the Physics lab on the second floor of the Science Building, Edwin Watson as technical advisor and Darrell as operator have set up an amateur station. At present Darrell's National 101X receiver and Meck T-60 transmitter are being used.

Future plans call for a larger 250 watt transmitter to replace the 60 watt Tx now in use. For the first contact, an interior dipole antenna was used, but since this lost almost 90% of signal output due to the stone building, a 64-foot center-fed horizontal dipole was erected last week-end. With this antenna, the operators hope to "work the world."

Watson hopes to set up code and theory classes for those interested in taking the F. C. C. license test. In conjunction with this, he is planning to start a Radio Club, and when plans are completed, a call will be issued for those interested in Radio.

Watson is a veteran of nearly six years in the Army, four of which were spent as a Communications Chief and Radio Sergeant. Darrell spent three years as a Radio Operator in the Merchant Marine.

Classics Club Hears Discourse On Plato

David L. McManus presented a paper on Plato's views on politics and metaphysics at a meeting of the Classics Academy on October 13. A discussion followed the presentation.

For the Academy's next meeting J. S. Dagilaitis will prepare a paper on Sappho's works and her influence on the Alexandrian poets.

A Brain-That's All

Everyone has seen the type of student who spends all his time studying. He's the class encyclopedia. He has little time for anything except throwing the shadow of his profile on the pages of a textbook. People are amazed at his knowledge. They predict the bright future we hear so much about. But they're wrong.

Professional schools and schools of graduate study are not selecting the men who obtained the highest marks while they were in college, and nothing else. They do not want the men who failed to take part in outside activities while in school. In short, they do not care to have in their schools the one-groove brain that can study and do nothing else.

Schools of higher learning are taking a keen interest in the extra-curricular activities of their applicants. Marks are important but they are not the deciding factor. Graduate schools want to obtain men who can speak, men who have developed their talents, men who are able to do something more than just 'know' a subject.

It would be an intelligent move for those who plan to pursue studies after college to join a few of the school activities. They may find that college life means more than attending lectures. They may benefit immeasurably.

Dance Days

At last it appears that a class can sponsor a dance which will be successful. The Freshmen Welcoming Dance, although held on the campus, did not result in financial ruin for the class officers. What a far cry from the days of last year!

There were no bottles (alcohol, pop, carbon tetrachloride) allowed on the floor. Yet people came, laughed, danced, and actually had an enjoyable evening. They didn't have to be calling constantly upon stimulants to bolster their personalities. They weren't afraid to admit that they could have a good time without alcohol.

We congratulate those who sponsored the dance. But we admire even more those who attended. They have proven to the skeptics that you can still come to a dance and enjoy the event because of the dancing.

Time Reports Greyhound Article

Time magazine, covering the national scene, reported the recent interview of Governor Thurmond conducted by THE GREYHOUND. In the October 11 issue of Time, Thurmond occupied the cover of the magazine, thereby reaching, what is according to many, the peak of any man's career.

According to the report, Thurmond was met in Baltimore by a college student dressed in the uniform of a Confederate brigadier.

The brigadier was none other than David Maguire, GREYHOUND reporter, who rented the costume from A. T. Jones, and met Thurmond under the statue of Jackson and Lee.

Wedded Bliss

The number of married students at Loyola is on the increase. Saturday mornings are in the spotlight as week after week Loyola College students marry the sweethearts of their school days.

We cannot congratulate all individually. Therefore we are taking this opportunity to congratulate them collectively. We have but one thing to add. When the time comes to send the boys to college, don't forget the Alma Mater.

An Old Refrain

Attention of the wiser Loyola students is called to the list of organizations and meeting times which THE GREYHOUND has compiled on page two of this issue.

The list is complete in the detail necessary for a college student who is interested in school activities. All activities are balanced prudently so as to give a change from class work and an aid to lectures by applying practical experience to book learning.

Extra-curricular activities can be just as beneficial as class work. The man who can and does not take an active interest in some school society is of little value to the school. But beyond that, he is of little value to himself.

Through extra-curricular activities many find in themselves abilities and talents which they never knew they had. You never know what you can do until you try.

We call on those interested in furthering their school and their own future to join a society as soon as possible.

Dr. Morris Heads Mercy Hospital Medical Staff

Dr. Frank K. Morris, '23, was elected president of the Medical Staff of Mercy Hospital last week. A veteran of over six years in the Navy, Dr. Morris served as a Commander in the Pacific area.

He has reopened his office on Chase Street and plans to continue his practice of gynecology.

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Retreat Notice

That no one may have excuse for not attending, we take this occasion to announce the Annual Alumni Retreat to be held at Manresa-on-Severn on the week-end of December 3-5. Plan now to keep this week-end open. Begin now to talk up the retreat among your classmates. If we really work we can and will fill every room at the retreat house. In previous years it has always been necessary to depend heavily on non-Loyola retreatants to bring our numbers to the required minimum. This year we should convince ourselves and prove to others that there are enough Loyola retreatants to fill the house for two week-ends.

This year's Captain is John Connor. John has been laying his plans for some time and will complete details within the next two weeks. You will be contacted by mail, through the columns of THE GREYHOUND, and by those working on the retreat with John. When you are contacted help to make this a record retreat year for Loyola. Decide to make the retreat, and make sure that you sign up several of your classmates to make it with you. Let's go—to Manresa-on-Severn, December 3!

Plan For Alumni Nights

At the election meeting held in the Recreation Room of the Alumni Gymnasium on Friday, October 15, it was indicated that some additional Alumni activity could be expected in the coming months. Both the newly elected President, Louis C. Roche, and the President of the College, Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., spoke of the possibility of having an Alumni Night at Evergreen frequently, in fact, even weekly. Father Talbot made it clear that he is most anxious to have the Alumni back at Evergreen as often as possible, and told President Roche that the facilities of the college were available for the use of the members of the Association.

As with all Alumni activities, past, present and to come, the key to success is the active interest of Association members. There can be just as much activity as you are willing to make possible by offering to help the officers provide. They need your help as workers in planning the activity, and they need it too in the form of enthusiastic use of the facilities offered and the activities planned.

Watch for announcements of this and other Alumni activities in THE GREYHOUND from week to week. Read your Alumni mail. Get behind the activities of your Association.

Pacing The Pack:

Booters Boosted By Many East Baltimore Players

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

Most folks familiar with sports in Baltimore are well aware of the fact that good soccer players and East Baltimore go hand in hand. Not one to be left out in the cold, Bish Baker, coach of Loyola's booters, is accordingly credited with making the classic statement of the young season.

It happened while he was preparing to make a cut in a large squad of would-be soccerites, which could be a tedious job. Not being addicted to loss of time, according to the story, Bish settled the matter hastily when he quipped: "Okay, all the fellows from East Baltimore line up over here; the rest of you take a shower."

Seriously though, the Highlandtown element is deeply rooted in the Greyhound lineup and is a bulwark to the team's efforts.

However, a foreign flavor is beginning to make itself felt on the squad with the influx of two newcomers. First, Armando Victor Luzzi, who grew up on the soccer fields of Italy, came along to bolster the Loyola stock. Now, we boast of one Ronald Domingo Lacson, a 6-footer who attended De La Salle College in Manila, and there developed an artful booting toe.

Murphy Unrecognized

Big Jim Murphy, known to most of the upperclassmen as one of the sparkplugs of the attack during the 1946 and 1947 seasons, was a spectator at Loyola's opening game against Towson Teachers and inadvertently caused one of the Towson players to emit a remark which showed the latter wasn't at all acquainted with Jim's background.

The former Loyolan was chiding the Towsonite about his playing, when the yellow-uniformed booter came charging over to the sidelines and demanded: "Do you think you can do any better?" . . . no, Murph didn't put on a uniform to prove it. We all knew he could. We remembered days like October 25, 1946, when the jovial Irishman rammed home three goals as the Greyhounds blanked Western Maryland solely on those tallies.

Cronin Rapidly Rising In Skill

If you've noticed Father William Herlihy carrying a plush red carpet around with him during the past two weeks, it shouldn't be too difficult to diagnose the reason why.

Ever since Jack Cronin, Father Herlihy's ace golfer, copped the Mount Pleasant Fall Championship Tournament, the Loyola links mentor has laid down the carpet whenever Jack came along for a talk.

It wasn't just the winning of the tournament, but the manner in which it was done that promises to make the smooth-swinging star almost unbeatable in intercollegiate competition next spring.

On the tough 6,800 yard Mount Pleasant course, Cronin upended Frank Michalek, 6 and 4. Put together the facts that Michalek is a veteran campaigner, currently holding the Baltimore Public Parks Championship, and that Cronin birdied 4 of the 14 holes (after a bogey '6 on the first green), and you can see what we mean.

Otto Greiner may be the pride of Baltimore on the pro circuit right now, but we hasten to predict that, if Cronin so chooses, he may well supplant Greiner a few years hence.

Big Things Expected Of Rodney

Given a good break as regards injuries and such, Bill McElroy can really shoot for that Mason-Dixon cross-country crown now. When George Rodney, former Patterson Park hill and dale luminary, enrolled at Evergreen, the lad came as one of the best scholastic middle distance runners in the country.

One of the greatest of his accomplishments came last fall, when Rodney went to New York and came in second in the National Intercollegiate Cross-Country meet.

The writer recalls one particularly thrilling race annexed in 1947 by the newcomer to Evergreen. It was during Loyola's annual Scholastic Invitation Meet. Rodney was entered in the mile, and was pitted against his arch-rival from Poly, Tyson Creamer.

These two had squarred off twice previously that spring, and had split the two encounters, so our tale concerns the rubber match. Rodney and Creamer matched stride for stride for more than three-quarters of a mile, and the spectators sensed a close finish. Then, with about one hundred and fifty yards to go, the Patterson star put on a tremendous kick to finish well ahead of his adversary.

Incidentally, Rodney established a new meet mark of 4:33 as a result of his brilliant effort.

Off To A Flying Start

George Brown, Jim Kaufman, and Larry Atkinson break out in high gear with several Hopkins runners at the outset of Loyola's meet against the Blue Jays.

Loyola Runners Gain Overwhelming Victory

by Bob Roesner

Four miles is a long, long way when your only transportation is your feet, but to Loyola's Georges, Brown and Rodney, it was just a matter of a little more than twenty-one minutes. Hill and dale records fell by the wayside as these two men led the Greyhounds to 20 to 33 victory last Friday at the rough Clifton Park course.

In the first three positions it was a clean sweep for Coach Bill McElroy's men as Yogi Paszek ran third with a time of 22.47. There was a real battle for this position as Paszek and Joe Grimm, Hopkins star, came down the stretch heel and toe. Grimm crossed the finish line just three seconds behind the Loyola runner. Jim Kaufman and Ed Will were the next Loyola finishers, running sixth and eighth respectively.

First Victory

This win had a sweet taste for the Loyola runners and fans since it was the first time in history that the Greyhound harriers have come out on top of the Blue Jays. This victory was a big step toward the Mason-Dixon title and has tabbed Loyola the team to watch.

Coach McElroy has come up with just the right shot in the arm that the Hill and Dalers needed. This shot is George Rodney, an eighteen year old Patterson Park High graduate. At Patterson George excelled in running efforts. Among his many records is the 10,000 meter run. He covered this distance in a time of 33.57.8. With Rodney, Brown, Paszek and Kaufman to lead the way, Bill McElroy is now a happy man as he sees visions of the Mason-Dixon title.

However, he will have a much better idea of how his team stacks up against the rest of the conference by next Tuesday. The Greyhounds meet Gallaudet today, and Catholic University on Tuesday. Both of these schools are Mason-Dixon Conference members, and Catholic U. has an eye out for the 1948 Championship.

Watch where you're kicking that ball! Tommy Lind finds himself in the way of a potential boot during soccer opener at Evergreen.

Greyhound Soccer Team Easily Scores M-D Conference Victory Over Towson

by Gerry McCormick

The soccer team opened its season in impressive fashion by trouncing Towson State Teachers College 6-0, on a muddy Evergreen field on Saturday, October 9. The game was lively, though one-sided, and Loyola's more experienced players soon showed why they have to be considered very much in the running for the Conference Crown.

Loyola displayed a fast-moving, polished aggregation which jumped off to a 3 point lead in the first quarter, on a goal by Jimmy Bullington, and a brace of tallies by the veteran star, Nick Kropfelder.

Kropfelder Scores Three

Kropfelder, the prime scoring threat of the Green and Gray, scored his third goal in the second quarter, about ten minutes after Tommy Lind scored with a hard kick into the net. Lind also played a standout game from his fullback position.

One of the best plays of the game came in the third period when Armando Luzzi headed the ball into the net for Loyola's sixth score. Luzzi, the flashy newcomer from Italy, performed skillfully throughout the contest, as did Jimmy Bullington and Everett O'Brien, two other promising rookies.

Linz Plays Well

One very pleasing development of the game to Coach Bish Baker was the fine play of Henry Linz, whom Baker recently switched to the backfield in order to add strength to that department.

Tarheels Nip Greyhounds

The University of North Carolina edged Loyola's soccer team in a very hard-fought non-conference game, 3-2, on October 15. As the score indicates, the game was very close and the two thousand spectators were not certain who the winner would be until the last minute of the final quarter had expired.

The third quarter was the most exciting period of soccer that Chapel Hill has seen for a long time. Every goal was scored in this period.

Bullington Scores

Jimmy Bullington, Loyola's inside-left, scored first after receiving a pass from Nick Kropfelder. North Carolina then proceeded to score three straight goals, the last of which was a disputed penalty shot that was called against Captain Henny Linz. Goalie John Gants desperately tried to block the shot but his outstretched hands barely missed deflecting the ball.

Then the Greyhounds rallied. Reliable Nick Kropfelder, Loyola's ace center forward, blasted the ball past the Tarheel goalie, who couldn't touch the ball. Unfortunately, that was the last goal of the ball game.

Goalie John Gants who had fifteen saves and Dick Hicks, among others, scintillated defensively. Tommy Lind, Harry Bullington, Lou Fonte, John Kerr, George Phillips, and Everett O'Brien also played well.

Track Star Enters Loyola

Loyola College Cross Country and Track stock took a decided rise on the collegiate market last week when it was announced by Athletic Director Lefty Reitz that George Rodney, brilliant Patterson Park High School running star, has taken up studies at Evergreen.

His entrance into Loyola came practically on the eve of an important Cross Country clash with Hopkins, and his presence bolstered Coach Bill McElroy's already potent squad for this Mason-Dixon test.

Started By Accident

George began running for Patterson almost by accident. He was "discovered" at gym class one day in the fall of 1945. "The rest of the class was running," says George, "So I decided to run too! I guess I've been running ever since." The modest 5' 10½", 140-pounder attributes his development to Mr. Mueller and Mr. Biasi, coaches at the East Baltimore High School.

Despite first class competition, both national and local, George has managed to cop more than his share of trophies. He began his winning ways in the Spring of 1946, when he came in third in the scholastic mile.

Won AAU Meets

In the fall of the same year, he entered and won both the five-mile AAU and six-mile Senior AAU Championship runs. In the Spring of 1947 he won the Maryland Scholastic Association mile in record breaking time of 4:27.4. That Fall, he successfully defended his five and six-mile AAU crowns. In addition, and perhaps his greatest single accomplishment, George finished sixth among the nation's best in the six-mile Olympic tryouts held last Spring.

Elections Completed

At the first meeting of the Block L Club, held on October 15, elections were conducted for the offices of Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. Ray Wittelsberger, elected President of the Athletic Association last spring, automatically became President of the Block L, along with the A. A. post.

The thirty-four men present selected Mickey Parr, Jack Downey, and Lou Roche as Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, respectively. Nominations were restricted to Seniors, since the offices are held for only one year.

Athletic Director Lefty Reitz revealed plans which are being perfected to provide insurance protection for athletes participating in intercollegiate athletics at Loyola. The idea met with the whole-hearted approval of the Block L members, who felt that such a provision would boost sports at Evergreen.

Basketball

Initial Workouts Foretell Stiff Fight For Varsity Berths

With a hectic basketball schedule hovering on the horizon, initial workouts for a basketball team which should be one of the best in Loyola history have begun in the Alumni Gymnasium.

Coach Emil "Lefty" Reitz was greeted by forty candidates not including last year's veterans. These aspirants for varsity berths underwent a strenuous round of scrimmages.

The players who survived the proverbial axe look very good and show the interest and physical makeup of future Loyola greats. John Bailey, a junior who stands 6 feet 3 inches, appears to be in fine form and has executed some beautiful plays in the current skirmishes. Ed Hughes with his usual exuberance tossed more than one goal into the meshes.

Anderson Standout

Bob Anderson, who hails from Newark, N. J., looks like a possible bet for the starting five. A former teammate of Mike Zedalis while in the service, Bob has shown his prowess in the intra-squad workouts. The amiable ball hawk looks like "It's Magic" when he grasps the leathery spere. Reaching a height of 6 feet 5 inches, Bob looks like the shot in the arm which the Greyhounds need.

Veterans Back

Also included are Whitey Welsh B squad star of last year. Lee Bardelman one of Loyola High's brilliants of last year also looks impressive.

Take these recruits, mix 'em with Jim Lacy, Andy O'Donnell, Mike Zedalis, Bill Johnson, Bill Fergu-

Alumni Bowling

Newcomers Riding Along At Top Of Loop Standings

Under the capable direction of league secretary Charles V. Bitterli, the Alumni Association Bowling League has completed its fourth week of league action.

Currently leading the loop with 9 wins and 3 losses, is the class of '48, with the class of '44-'45 running a close second with 11 wins and 4 losses. High weekly game was rolled by Mr. Wilkinson of the class of '40 with a score of 125.

Donohue Has Highest Average

J. Donohue of the class of '40 has the seasons highest average with a creditable 105.47, followed by Mr. McGraw of the Jau. '43 class with a 103.00 average. The battle for the highest average is a very hotly contested affair this season, since the first five men in the standings are within five points of each other.

Anyone interested in bowling with the Alumni Association may do so by contacting Mr. Bitterli at Belmont 8588.

The league is serving as an excellent medium of organization for members of the Alumni Association. It offers a chance to keep contact with old buddies from college, and at the same time affords an evening of pleasurable activity once a week.

The standings were as follows:

	W.	L.
Class of '48	9	3
Class of '44-'45	11	4
Class of Jan. '43	11	4
Class of Oct. '43	8	4
Class of '40	9	6
Class of '47	5	10
Class of '42	4	11

Golfers Due To Meet Hopkins

With the completion of the elimination tournament, Jack Cronin, John Bailey, Mel Beeler, Jack Simanski, John Winterson, and Jim Peleziak were selected as the golfers to represent Loyola in an exhibition match carded with Johns Hopkins on October 24. The 18-hole match play affair will get under way at 12 A. M. at Mount Pleasant.

Prizes Available For Predicting Grid Winners

With this issue of THE GREYHOUND, a challenge is being made to those students who consider themselves capable of outpredicting Vince Bagli.

The rules are very simple. Merely circle the teams, in the accompanying list, which you think will win. Bring your list, with an empty Chesterfield cigarette package, to THE GREYHOUND office between 1:25 and 2:20 p. m., today.

Through the courtesy of Bob Dorsey, Chesterfield representative on the Evergreen campus, five cartons of Chesterfield cigarettes will be divided among the students who out-guess Bagli. Omitting particular games is not permitted. If more than fifty students win, prizes will be limited to the first fifty winners entered.

Football Leagues Settle Down; Tournaments Slow

by Ed Ward

Football

With many gridiron tests under its belt the Touch Football League seems to have passed the midfield stripe on its seasonal run.

The individual league winners will be decided by the round robin system in which all teams meet individually just once. The playoffs between leagues will decide the winner of the tournament. This play-off will be settled by a double loss elimination system.

At present, except for a few lopsided scores, the grid tilts seem to have been evenly matched contests. The South Paws, currently leading the Blue League with a 2-0 count, have turned in the most one sided score by downing the Bucks, 34-0.

The Red League seems to be the tight league with Jim Mitchell's Psychos currently leading with a win and a tie. In the Green League Joe Woytowicz's Wachterettes, boasting the accurate right arm of "Y. A." Hagerty, and Charlie Visek's Globetrotters, with "triple threat" Buccheri, are running neck and neck with 1-0 records.

Walt Symthe's Wepejah's scored a hard fought win over Ray Witelberger's July 49er's only to lose by a forfeit because of an ineligible player. The 49er's look to be a cinch to win the Purple League now, with no defeats in two games.

Tom Ostendorf's Shmoos and the Bounders, outstanding freshmen team led by George Eisenhut, are both undefeated in the Orange League. Finally, in the Black League, Jeep Mueller's weighty Diz Kids so far have the masterful touch.

Tennis

With first round play completed the favorites are decreasing in number as the tennis tournament continues at a brisk pace. The biggest net upset to date has been the downing of Mickey Parr by Rip Roberts in a hard fought 7-5, 6-2 contest. Ed Miller also turned in an impressive victory by conquering Joe Woytowicz in a tight 6-3, 7-5 match.

Other winners in closely played tests are Jim Mitchell, John Bailey, Jim O'Connor, and Joe Dillon, while Frank Whitman looked good in defeating Henry Stegmerten, 6-1, 6-3. The best brand of tennis form was shown by Bob Brooks and Stu Gallaway in their clash in which Bob displayed fine racketeering prowess by triumphing, 6-2, 6-2. This tournament also has shown high spirit and promises to have some interesting matches played before the final victor is acclaimed.

Horseshoes

By today many results should be turned in from the horseshoe tournament. Although some practice games have been played in the pits and the weather has been suitable, only one official outcome has been recorded, except for the byes and forfeits. Thus far in winning over Bob Roesner, Rip Roberts has been the sole winner in competition; but a large group of games are listed for this week. Participants are reminded to get in touch with their opposition to set an early date for play.

Three Soccer Tilts Carded

During the next two weeks Coach Bish Baker's Loyola team gets right up in the front lines of the soccer war. The Greyhound booters will meet two Mason-Dixon Conference foes, taking time out in between to test Maryland's veteran aggregation.

The Green Terrors of Western Maryland will play host to the Green and Gray on October 25. Hoping to give a repeat performance of last year's victory, the Greyhounds will field a strong squad headed by their brilliant center forward, Nick Kropfelder. The boys from Westminster, who promise to provide stellar opposition, can boast of a fast, experienced team; and the game shapes up as a tight battle.

Maryland Coming Here

On October 28, Coach Doyle Royal and his Maryland team comes to Loyola for a non-conference skirmish. The Terrapins went through last season with a total of no losses. This year sees them definitely bidding for national prominence. Having lost only one of their 1947 starters, All-American Dick Cleveland, the College Parkers number three outstanding booters who were candidates for the U. S. Olympic team. Jim Belt, John Clark, and Eddie Rieder combine a lot of soccer savvy with the ability to produce points.

From all appearances, the Greyhounds will have to be at their best if they hope to emerge on top in these tests. Both teams feature a strong, wide-open attack and the outcome may hinge on the defensive efforts of the backfield men.

Next in line, the Green and Gray move into the home grounds of Baltimore U. for a M-D tilt on November 2.

Cross-Country

Two Conference Opponents Due

Now that Loyola's cross-country team has conquered one of its major Mason-Dixon Conference opponents in beating Johns Hopkins, 20-33, Coach Bill McElroy hopes to follow up with two more victories in the next two weeks.

This afternoon the Green and Gray clad harriers will journey to Washington to meet the runners of Gallaudet College. The Silents will field practically the same team that lost to Loyola last year, so today's test may prove somewhat of a breather for the lads from Evergreen.

Catholic University Tough

However, on October 26, McElroy's squad will battle against what may be the toughest conference foe of the season, Catholic University. The Cardinals set the Greyhounds back on their heels in 1947, and are anxious to do it again.

The greatly improved Loyola team should prove a stiff test for the Washingtonians, and with George Rodney and George Brown leading the way, Loyola hopes to come out on top.

Recent Boat Catastrophe Fatal To Joseph G. Kuhn

Joseph G. Kuhn, '43, lost his life on October 5 when the tug Arundel capsized in the Baltimore harbor. He was aboard the boat in his capacity of Assistant Superintendent of Dredging of the Arundel Corporation.

Kuhn was married to the former Miss Jean Molz and resided in Northwood. A former Editor-in-Chief of the Evergreen Annual, he was graduated from the College in October, 1943 with a Ph.B. degree.

Active Loyola Student

During his years at Loyola, Kuhn was active in numerous campus groups. In addition to his yearbook post, he held the position of News Editor of THE GREYHOUND. He also was a member of the Sodality throughout his college career, and was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges."

Following his graduation, he entered the Navy. After his period of service in the Navy, Kuhn entered the employment of the Arundel Corporation.

Loyola High Alumnus

Kuhn was graduated from Loyola High School in June, 1940. While at the school, he participated in debating as well as playing in the school's orchestra.

Kuhn attended Cathedral School and was graduated from there in 1936. In addition to his wife and son, he is survived by his mother and sister.

NFCCS Plans Relief Drive

Activity for the Loyola College branch of the National Federation of Catholic College Students will be much heavier this year than ever before. Lawrence Atkinson will supervise the drive for World Student Relief.

Loyola students will be called upon soon to contribute materials to assist the students in the European and Asiatic nations. Emphasis will be placed on school supplies, books and clothing.

Twenty-five Loyola students have indicated that they are willing to assist Eugene Corrigan in the NFCCS Radio Acceptance Poll. Last year this poll received a large amount of attention from national advertising and radio executives. The poll determined which radio comedians were most acceptable on the basis of genuine humor.

The Debating Society has informed the NFCCS that it will participate in the national debate tournament scheduled for 1949.

Chess Club Plans For Outside Meets

Tentative plans for Chess Club activity are being completed under President Robert Bordley's direction. Bordley and Moderator Walter S. Dawkins foresee an especially successful year of inter-college competition, and have provided for intensive intra-mural activity as well.

Nine teams of the Chess Club will compete on the campus besides their "A" and "B" squads. The time and place of the weekly meeting of the organization will be found in the listing on page two.

Biologists Set Seminar Series

The Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S. J., Faculty Advisor of the Mendel Club, has released the organization's seminar program for the 1948-49 season. The seminars will be conducted by the members of the club under the direction of the Advisor.

Jacob Fisher, President, announced that Edward G. Sellmayer will conduct the first seminar on October 26 on the topic, Vivisection.

Shaffer Speaks On Hypnotism

Irvin R. Shaffer will lead a discussion on Hypnotism on November 16. December 14 will see Richard F. Milholland speaking on The Web of Life. John S. Mahle will speak on Human Heredity at the society's meeting on January 4.

The first semester program will end on January 25 with a lecture by Hector Di Nardo who will discuss Apes and Man.

Fisher Plans Talk

Jacob Fisher will begin the second semester with a seminar on the topic, Amino Acids as Foods. This will be followed by C. Rodger Kines' discourse on The Origin of Life scheduled for March 1.

The March 22 meeting will feature a dissertation by Harry J. Kohlhepp, Jr., on Crystalline Enzymes. The season will be closed by a discussion of Variation and Evolution by L. Paul Rivas and a seminar on the topic, Osmosis in Organisms, on May 3. Robert S. Custer will head the latter discourse.

James Dietz Works As Radio Announcer

James Dietz, Rewrite Editor of THE GREYHOUND, has joined the ranks of Loyola radio announcers. Dietz has taken over an announcing position on Radio Station WMCP. He works in a part time capacity for the FM station.

Dietz is the second member of THE GREYHOUND staff to enter this field. Richard Coleman, record columnist, can be heard daily from 6:00 p. m. to 12:00 midnight on WCBM.

Erection of a shelter at the intersection of Charles Street and Cold Spring Lane by the Baltimore Transit Company has been proposed by the Student Council in a letter to the Public Relations Director of the Transit Company.

The letter was sent by the Improvement Committee of the Council following a proposal by Samuel Phelps, Vice-President of the July, '49 Class.

Cites Conditions

Phelps pointed out that it was often necessary to wait as long as twenty-five minutes for a bus at the intersection. During the winter and especially in rainy weather, there is very little protection at the corner with the exception of a few bushes.

A shelter would provide the necessary protection. The Student Council felt that because of the large numbers using bus service the Transit Company ought to give special consideration to the request.

Class Moderators Proposed

A special committee has been appointed to visit the Dean and draw up a report on the advisability of having moderators for each of the classes. Edward O. Clarke proposed the action.

Triple Threat!

A topcoat, overcoat
and a raincoat
all in one

On the football field, some players are triple threats—they can pass, run and kick. In the field of apparel, Eddie's new all-wool gabardine coat is an all-around performer too. It has a removable lining in body and sleeves and convertible collar. With the lining in, it's an overcoat. With the lining out, it's a topcoat or a raincoat, because it's weatherproof too!
